Today it's up to me to be the BEST that I can be!

The Principal's Principle for this week is

Courage

Courage is the ability to face danger, and find strength to overcome fear. Physical and moral courage are two different types of courage. Physical courage gives you the strength to face challenges that put your body in danger. Moral courage helps you do what is right, even if someone makes fun of you. If you don't try new things because you are afraid to fail, then you are letting a "wall of fear" keep you from growing. A famous inventor names Thomas Edison said, "I have not failed. I've just found 10,000 ways that did not work."
