What is the most important way to ensure my child has these skills?

Read aloud, read aloud, read aloud....every day together with your child. Studies show children must hear and share in hundreds of stories and Nursery Rhymes before they are ready to learn and read in school. It is also important for them to talk and talk and talk about what they see every day and say the sounds of the letters they are learning.

"The single most important activity for building the knowledge required for eventual success in reading is reading aloud to children. This is especially so during the preschool years." The Report of the Commission on Reading

What are some simple activities parents can do at home to teach their child these skills?

Whenever you are working with your child, it should always be fun! Early childhood advocates call it playing with a purpose. Some ideas are:

- Snack Time - Look for letters on food boxes or cans, and say them together
- Driving – Sing songs and read signs, such as McDonald's or Walmart – pointing out various letters

- Preparing Meals – Put magnetic letters on the refrigerator for play
- Shopping - Talk about beginning letters of food, clothes, or toys
- Nap Time – Read a story and talk about what's happening on each page. Let children predict what is going to happen next, or "read" the story to you.
- Doing Chores – Put sign on a few objects at home, such as "bed" and make a game of saying letters aloud
- Play Time – Point to an object and ask children to say words that rhyme, including silly words: ball, wall, tall, dall, jall, nall
- Eating – Say nonsense rhymes such as Hey Diddle, Diddle
- Lesson Time – Spell personal names with letter cards. Let children match each capital letter with its lowercase form, or put the letters in order. Draw a letter and find objects that begin with the same sound. (ball, boy, bike)
- Library Time – Make weekly trips to the library part of your family's fun time together. Books about going to school help build children's confidence about kindergarten. A librarian can help you find them.
