

East Knox Area Rezoning Discussion

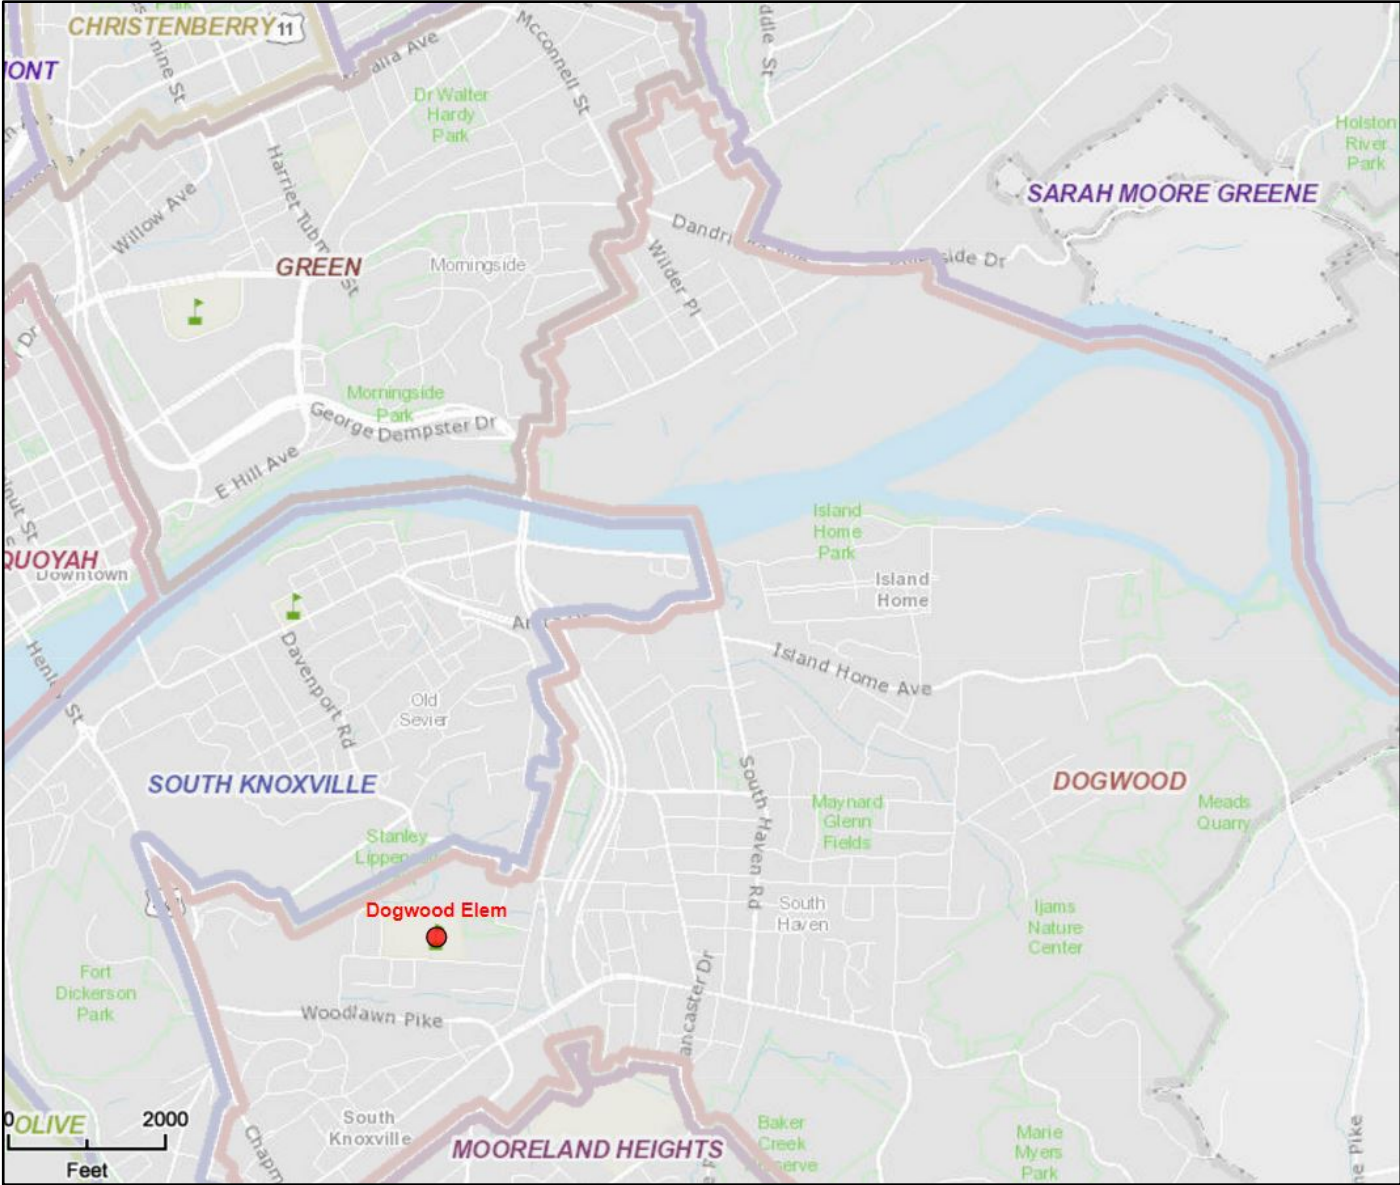

Fall 2017

Excellence for Every Child

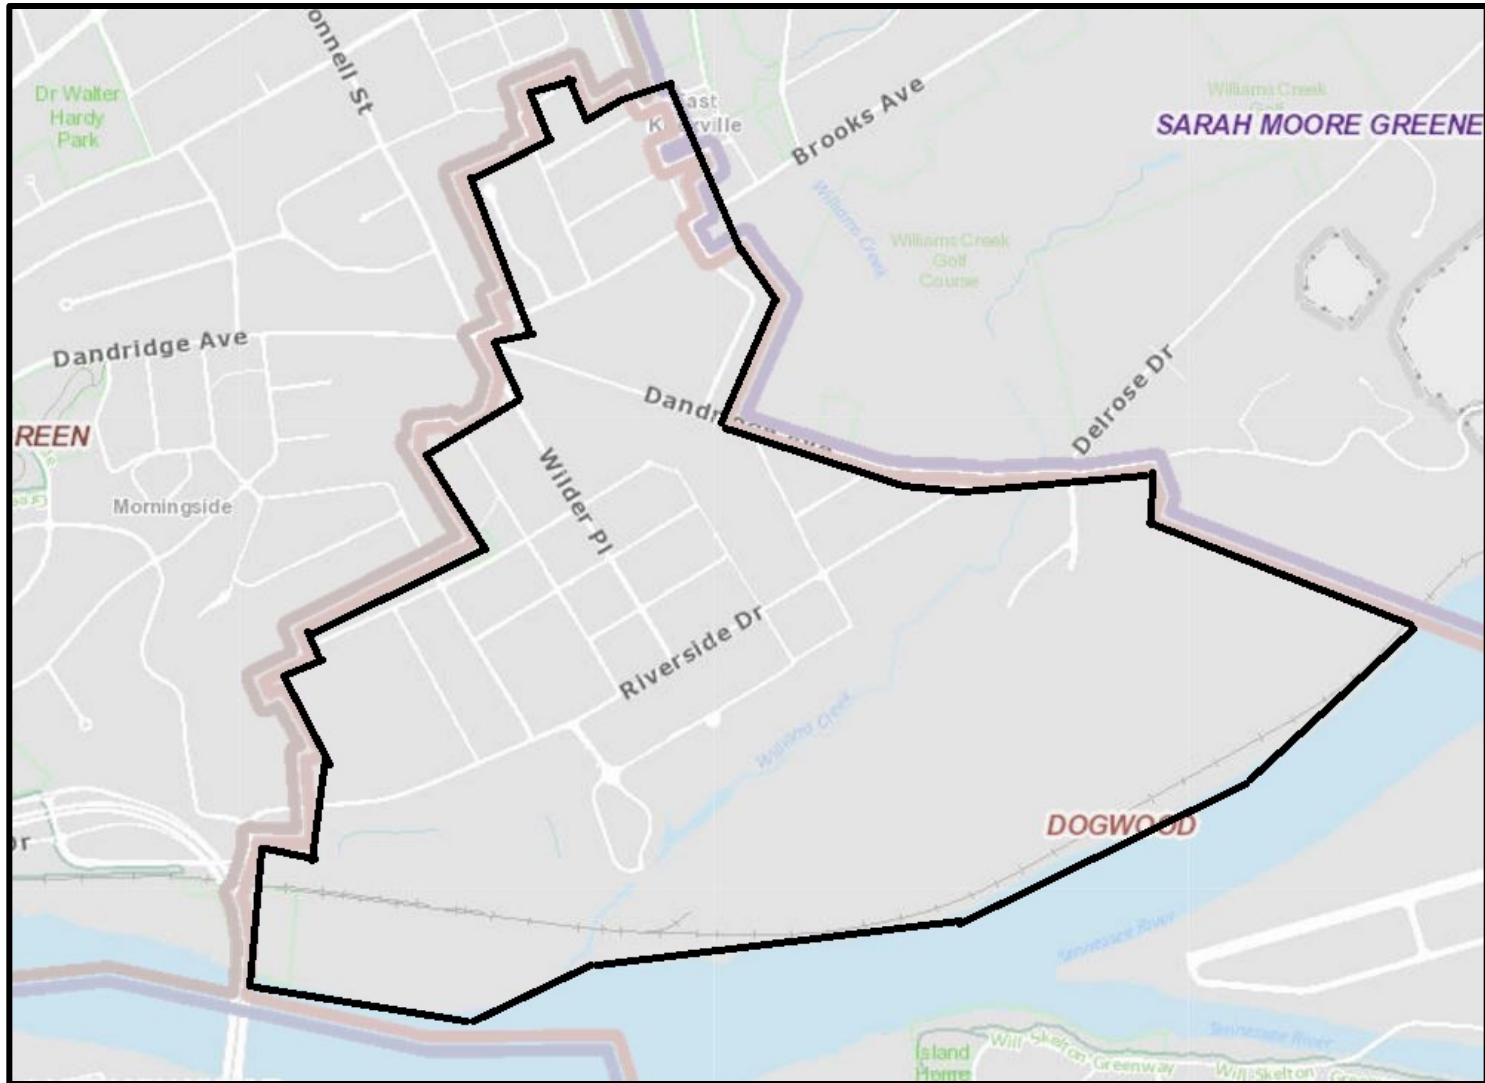

Background

- Requests were made during the recent middle school rezoning discussion to reconsider the elementary school zones in the East Knoxville area – This would impact students primarily zoned to Dogwood Elementary School
- Some residents requested that zones be designed so that they do not straddle the Holston River – The Dogwood ES zone encompasses neighborhoods on the north and south sides of the river
- The area under discussion is generally that portion of the current Dogwood Elementary Zone that is North of the Holston River - 104 students currently reside in this area
- We have also been asked to consider rezoning the Island Home area to South Knoxville Elementary School – an action in this area would affect about 25-40 students
- We are also looking at the Gateway and Lippencott area that is currently in the South Knoxville Elementary School zone

Current Enrollment and Capacities
