

INTERNET SAFETY

NAVIGATING THE DIGITAL WORLD

OUR MISSION

FREEDOM

WE WORK TO ELIMINATE THE SEXUAL EXPLOITATION AND TRAFFICKING OF CHILDREN IN TENNESSEE AND PROVIDE SAFE ENVIRONMENTS TO FOSTER HOPE AND HEALING THROUGH JESUS CHRIST

Street Hope TN is a faith-based nonprofit organization leading churches, community organizations, and individuals on a comprehensive path to end Domestic Minor Sex Trafficking in Tennessee.

WE CARRY OUT OUR MISSION THROUGH:

Awareness

INCREASING KNOWLEDGE

The first step to eradicating modern-day slavery is letting people know it exists today. There are no limits to where this darkness can and will travel. We engage people through events, presentations, and educational programs.

Prevention

REDUCING VULNERABILITY

We work hard to prevent child sexual exploitation and trafficking from ever happening. We engage children, youth, and adults with prevention messages and trainings through our Project POST curriculum, DMST trainings, and Internet Safety trainings.

Restoration

EMPOWERING SURVIVORS

We are building the first safe home, Garland Oaks, in East Tennessee for young girls ages 12 to 17 who are victims of sex trafficking. This Christ-centered home is a place where survivors will find healing, hope, and love. A place where survivors will receive education, enrichment opportunities, counseling, and a place to feel safe. Most importantly, a place where these girls will hear about the mighty name of Jesus and His abiding love for her.

Domestic Minor Sex Trafficking (DMST)

The commercial sexual exploitation of children in the United States through prostitution, pornography, or sexual performance in exchange for something of value, like money, food, or shelter.

Why are our kids at risk?

By adulthood, 1 in 4 girls & 1 in 6 boys will have been sexually abused

At least 70% of victims of DMST were first victimized IN THEIR OWN HOME!

Estes and Weiner 2001, The commercial sexual exploitation of children in the U.S., Canada and Mexico. Executive Summary: Of the U.S. national study. Philadelphia, PA: University of Pennsylvania, School of Social Work.

Why Sex Trafficking

- Easier to conceal than weapons
- Humans are a “renewable resource”
- Internet is an easy, accessible venue; widespread, provides anonymity
- “Culture of sex”

DMST is considered the most under-reported, most under-identified, and most extreme form of commercial sexual exploitation facing children today.

The Digital Age

- Teens are digital natives
- Enmeshed and online daily
- Find self-identity online
- Adult care givers are NOT digital natives
 - Some fear
 - Some Knowledge
 - Myths

Information from Aubrey Maples, Knoxville Police Department*

Digital Native ≠ Digitally Literate

Decreased Critical Thinking Skills

Poor Choices in Sharing Info

Increase in Risky Behaviors

Youth and Technology: What We Know

Of the cases involving internet initiated sex crimes:

- 76% first encounters of a predator took place in an online chat room
 - 27% of incidents, solicitors asked youths for sexual photographs of themselves
 - 47% of the cases' predators offered gifts or money during the relationship-building phase
- Of respondents to a survey of juvenile victims of Internet-initiated sex crimes, the majority met the predator willingly face-to-face and 93% of those encounters had included sexual contact

Youth and Technology: The Problem

- Predators seek youth who:
 - vulnerable to seduction, including those with histories of sexual or physical abuse
 - post sexually provocative photos/videos online
 - talk about sex with unknown people online
 - Post comments about being neglected or unloved, or "their parents just don't understand"

ADULTS AND TECHNOLOGY

- While teens make dumb decisions online, this applies to US, too.
- We also have the disadvantage that we are NOT digital natives, like the youth, AND we are not necessarily digitally literate.
- Ask yourself:
 - Who do you accept friend requests from?
 - Do you share your location online?
 - Do you tag your children/other people's children online?
 - What do you hashtag?
 - What do you reveal in your photos you post online? (About yourself + your children)
 - Do you give access to your mic + photos + location?

Parental Responsibilities

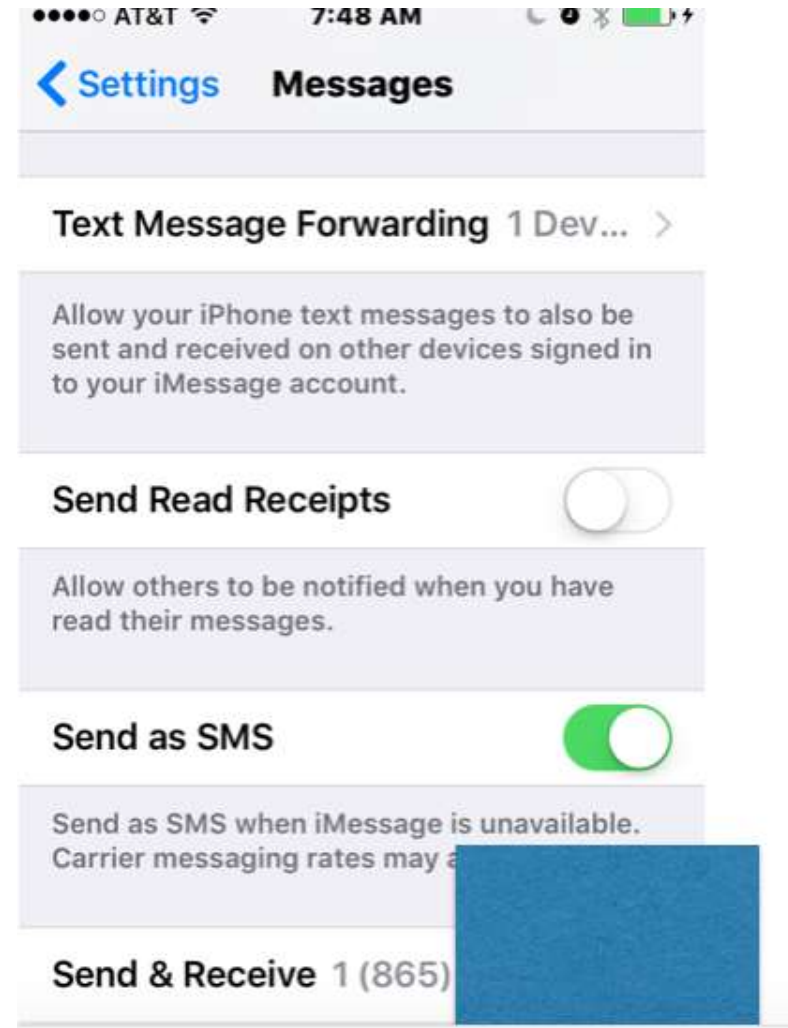

- Follow your children online. (Create those accounts)
- Check unknown utilities!
- Check your own location services.
- Count your tags & Check-ins.
- Sync your devices
- Check iTunes Regularly
- Check age restrictions for downloads
- Follow friends for duplicate accounts.

Google Family Link

Family Link

As your child begins using their first Android* device, the Family Link app from Google can help you set certain digital ground rules. You can create a Google Account for your child that's much like your own, and do things like manage apps, keep an eye on screen time, and set a bedtime for your child's device.

GET STARTED

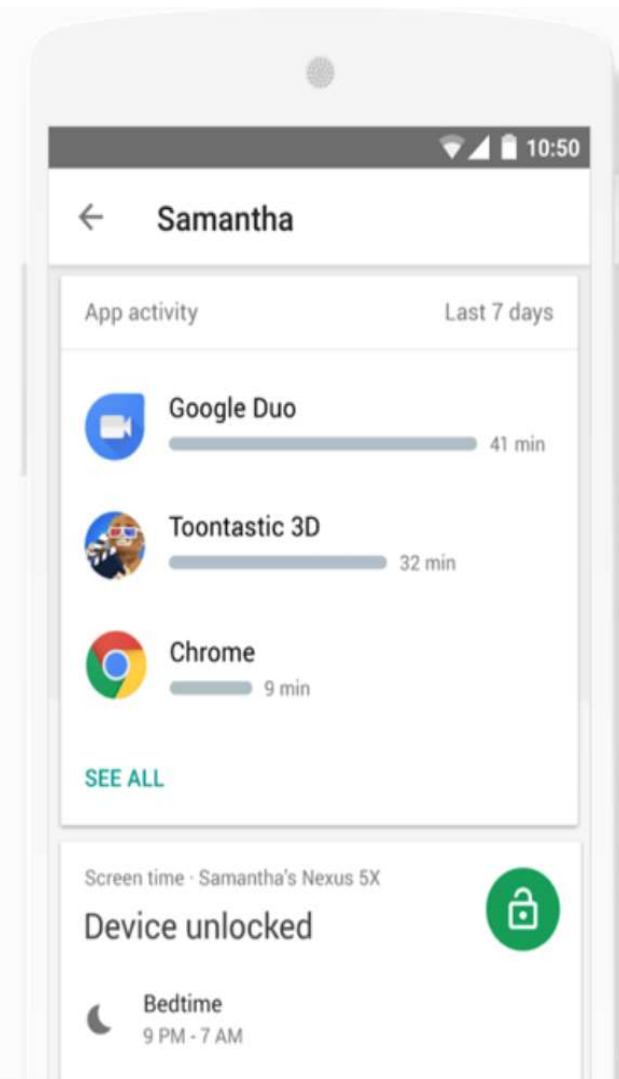

Source: <https://families.google.com/familylink/setup/>

Google Family Link

What you'll need:

- A compatible Android device for your child
- A Google Account for your child[‡] that's managed with Family Link
- Your own compatible device (Android or iPhone)
- Your own Google Account
- To be in an eligible area

[‡] In most countries, users 13+ can create their own Google Account. For users under the age of 13, parental consent is required to create a Google Account.

Source: <https://families.google.com/familylink/setup/>

Google Family Link

According to Google Parent Disclosure:

“FAMILY LINK - TOOLS FOR PARENTS:

- After you create your child's account, you can use Family Link to help you do things like:
 - Approve your child's downloads and purchases from Google Play and limit the visibility of content in the Google Play Store based on maturity ratings;
 - Manage settings such as SafeSearch for Google Search;
 - Review your child's app permissions on Android, such as microphone, camera, location, and contacts access;
 - Change the content filtering setting and turn search on or off in the YouTube Kids app;
 - Reset your child's Google Account password;
 - Set screen time limits on your child's Android devices;
 - See the location of your child's Android device;
 - Manage the activity settings for your child's Google Account; and
 - Allow a second family member to exercise the same controls you have over your child's account.
- These tools can help you set digital ground rules for your family. Some Family Link settings are modifiable on the web, but you'll need the Family Link app to access the full set of tools. For example, you must download the Family Link app to use features for your child's Android device like screen time limits or app activity. Please keep in mind these tools have limitations and will not always work. For example, you won't be able to see your child's device location in the Family Link app, unless the device is on, connected to the internet, and recently active. Additionally, filters like SafeSearch are not perfect, so explicit, graphic, or other content you may not want your child to see makes it through sometimes...”

Google Family Link

According to Google Parent Disclosure:

“YOUR CHILD’S GOOGLE ACCOUNT

Keep in mind that your child’s Google Account will be like your own and offers access to many of Google’s products and services, including general audience services that you may use yourself, such as Chrome, Search, Gmail, Google Play, Hangouts, and Google Assistant. Most of these products and services have not been designed or tailored for children, and your child may use them to communicate with others or to find content that you consider inappropriate.

Your child will be able to use their account to do things like:

- Access and search the internet;
- Send and receive emails, chat messages, video and voice calls;
- Subject to the Google Play approval settings for their account, purchase and download apps and games, music, movies, books, and other content available on Google Play, as well as make in-app purchases;
- Create, view, share, and receive content, including photos, videos, audio, notes, presentations, documents, and more; and
- Track health and fitness details such as activity level, heart rate, blood pressure or nutrition in Google Fit.”

Google Family Link

Google released Family Link in 2017.

As with any product, we recommend reading through the Parent Disclosure before using it, and then use your discretion on whether or not you feel this is a good fit for your family.

You don't need an app to use Omegle on your phone or tablet! The web site works great on mobile.

Omegle (oh-meg-ull) is a great way to meet new friends. When you use Omegle, we pick someone else at random and let you talk one-on-one. To help you stay safe, chats are anonymous unless you tell someone who you are (not suggested!), and you can stop a chat at any time. Predators have been known to use Omegle, so please be careful.

If you prefer, you can add your interests, and Omegle will look for someone who's into some of the same things as you instead of someone completely random.

By using Omegle, you accept the terms at the bottom. You must be 18+ or 13+ with parental permission.

“Our family’s story all started about five years ago with a 15-year-old boy named Bruce on Instagram. Bruce was, like I said, a normal 15-year-old boy. What I didn’t know was that the men who were acting as his “friends” had set Bruce up as a scout. His was the first safe face that our children see; he was unknowingly luring young girls into his circle as prey for the men to pick and choose from...If you do not know or understand what to look for or how to monitor your child’s social media use, then ask someone who does, someone you feel you can trust with the life of your child.

This picture above of my daughters may have been the last picture I had with both of them together. This was taken around the time Haylee met Bruce.”
