LEGAL BASIS FOR BOARD OF EDUCATION AUTHORITY

The legal basis for education in Tennessee is expressed in the state Constitution and state statutes, as interpreted by the courts. In Knox County, the county’s home rule charter is also a legal basis for public education within the county. Boards of Education are instruments of the state, and members of the Board are elected officers representing local citizens and the state in the management of the public schools.¹

The governing body shall be the Board of Education, serving residents within the boundaries of the school system and non-residents under conditions specified by state law and the Tennessee State Board of Education. Within the Knox County school system, there are nine districts consisting of the wards and precincts as determined by the Knox County Commission with one Board member to represent each district.²

All powers of the Board lie in its action as a body; therefore, individual Board members exercise their authority over school system affairs only as they vote to take action at an official meeting of the Board.

In other instances, an individual Board member, including the Chair, shall have only those powers specified by state law.

QUALIFICATIONS

Members of the Board shall be residents of and elected on a non-partisan basis from districts of substantially equal population,³ and shall be citizens of recognized integrity, intelligence, and ability to administer the duties of the office. To qualify as a candidate, an individual must show proof of graduation from high school or receipt of a high school equivalency credential. No member of the local legislative body nor any other local governmental official shall be eligible for election as a member of the Board of Education.⁴

TERMS OF OFFICE

Members of the Board shall serve four (4) year terms, and may succeed themselves.⁵,⁶

VACANCIES

Vacancies shall be declared to exist on account of death, resignation, ceasing to be a resident of the district which elected the Board member,⁶ or through due process proceedings.⁴

When a vacancy occurs, the unexpired term shall be filled at the next regular or special meeting of the local legislative body. Such appointment shall continue until the next regular election.⁷
